New criteria

The criteria has been reviewed and updated in line with current evidence and guidelines

Two of the area titles remain the same and Healthy Eating has been renamed Food, Drink and Oral health, as the title suggest requirements regarding oral health have been added.

The criteria now follow the same format through each area. These being Policy, Environment, Teaching and Learning, CPD and Training, and partnerships.

A full breakdown of the criteria, what it looks like in practice and suggested evidence is embedded in the centre of your wheel and more information can be found on our website.

New look wheel

Your wheels will change shortly to reflect the new criteria changes and a new section has been added in each area for setting to add their reaccreditation evidence. As always we ask that you continue to update and add evidence to your wheel.

At the meeting we will focus on the new Healthy Learning, Healthy Lives criteria. Exploring what changes that have been made to the Award, working through some practical examples that can help with your submission and delivery of the topic in your setting.

We will also include a demonstration of the new online wheel submission tool for those who have not yet used it or would like a refresher of how it works and we can help troubleshoot any issues.

We will look at reaccreditation and what this means for your school.

Please email healthyLearning@doncaster.gov.uk to register an interest. We will send a formal invitation out nearer the date

Achievement Award

We have designed an achievement award for schools to show how they have addressed COVID specific needs and what has been learned from these actions. You do not have to complete it all and can pick which sections which apply to your school. A copy of the award criteria is embedded in the centre of our wheel and can also be found on our website.

We will continue to review and add resources to the centre of your wheel and will notify you as the resources are updated.
